

A CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

The Métis Nation-Saskatchewan Genealogical and Archival Centre is putting out a call to citizens interested in helping to preserve the history of Saskatchewan's Northern cemeteries.

Cemeteries are valuable links to the past and efforts are currently underway to record the information found within cemetery records and from headstones for addition to the MN-S Genealogical and Archival Centre collection. The focus is on gathering information from current and obsolete cemeteries in Northern Saskatchewan.

To become a part of this important project, please contact us with information on the cemetery, including:

- its location
- how old it is
- its condition
- where its records are held, and
- if you have access to a digital camera.

If you are interested in helping to preserve this part of our provincial history and want more information, please contact Tammy Vallee with the above information:
